The high level information will be your name, date of birth and contact details. This will enable the EAS to maintain its clinical standards/clinical governance.

Who Will A Person Speak To on the Initial Contact?

- Fully qualified and experienced counsellors, who can offer immediate support.
- Each individual is dealt with by one of the EAS counsellors, who will become a person's dedicated Case Manager from start to finish.
- On the initial contact, the Case Manager will collect a person's contact details, discuss the issue they are facing and complete a quick assessment, taking approximately 30 minutes. This is also known as a triage process.
- The Case Manager will then match the person with the most appropriate service available.

EAS Short Term Counselling

How does it work?

- Where appropriate, a person may be referred to counselling through the EAS following the triage process with the Case Manager.
- When a person is referred to counselling through the EAS they will be provided with up to 6 sessions of counselling, where appropriate.
- The expansive team is spread throughout the Island of Ireland, so a person may be matched with a counsellor within 30km of their home or work place, where appropriate. This may now be online due to COVID-19

What if Face to Face Counselling is Not Possible?

- There are a number of different options if face to face counselling does not suit. For example, it may not possible due to COVID-19.
- In addition to telephone counselling, the video, SMS, WhatsApp, email and live chat counselling services are fully secure, meeting the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) requirements.
- This service is highly convenient and easily accessible.
- No matter the location, a person can be linked up with a counsellor who has clinical expertise in handling the person's specific issue.

Who can contact the EAS?

- All employees of the Department of Education and Skills. In addition to their family members who are a spouse, civil partner or dependent, where the family member can be described as a person over the age of 18 and residing at the family home.

What kind of support does this service provide?

- The EAS offer access through a dedicated telephone helpline (1800 411 057), available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year. Employees can also reach the service through the EAS wellbeing app/platform via a live chat function, and a request a call back function. What if the line is busy when an employee calls and they cannot speak with a counsellor?

- The EAS has put in place stringent measures to make sure that the line is never busy. However, if for some reason the services do miss a call and on a very rare occasion you may leave a voice mail, to allow us to call you back as soon as possible.

If it doesn't suit for me to meet the counsellor face to face, are there any other options for me?

- Yes, you can request video or telephone counselling, whatever suits you best.

How many sessions of counselling am I entitled to?

- On the initial contact, the Case Manager will collect a person's contact details, discuss the issue they are facing and complete a quick assessment, taking approximately 30 minutes. This is also known as a triage process.
- Where appropriate, a person may be referred to short term counselling through the EAS following the triage process with the Case Manager. When a person is referred to counselling through the EAS, they will be provided with up to 6 sessions of counselling, where appropriate.

What do you mean by short term counselling?

- EAS only provides short-term counselling. In short-term counselling it is understood that major long-term psychological issues and behaviours are unlikely to be resolved and changed quickly. If an individual has issues that are identified as requiring long term counselling, they may not be suitable for the EAS. In these cases, the service can provide employees with options for getting their psychological needs met in a more appropriate, longer-term setting where they can explore their issues in more depth and begin to change long-term patterns of behaviour.
- If you have any questions on that the EAS team can help you.

Is this service based in Ireland?

- Yes, the EAS service is based in Ireland. This allows EAS case managers and counsellors have a great knowledge of the geography in Ireland. As such, it will be easier for them to match employees with counsellors by location as well as speciality.

Are there many counsellors in my county?

- The EAS service has an extensive large network of qualified professional EAS counsellors & psychotherapists spread across the 26 counties of the Republic Ireland. The service offers employees face to face counselling in a mutually agreeable venue within a 30km radius from their home or workplace, where possible due to COVID19 restrictions, at mutually agreed times. The face to face counselling appointment will be confirmed with the employee within 24 hours and scheduled within 5 days from the date of initial contact.

How can I be sure my employer won't know I called?

- All services provided through the Spectrum.Life EAS are done so in total confidence. The identity of individuals and personal details will always be protected by the Case Managers and the EAS team of counsellors. This information will never be shared with or reported to the employer or anyone else, without the employee's clear consent.
